LARGER FORCE NEEDED IN THE WAR DEPARTMENT

Secretary Baker Submits Estimates for 250 Additional Clerks to Meet New Conditions

The Secretary of War has submitted estimates to Congress for about 250 additional clerks in the War Department to meet the large increases in the military establishment carried in the army defense act, which takes effect July 1 next. The increased force is desired for service in all the bureaus, but mainly in the office of the adjutant general where 100 more clerks are asked for: in the bureau of ordnance, where forty more clerks are needed, and in the office of the quartermaster general, where thirty are wanted. The present force in the offices named already are working over hours in order to keep up with current work.

These estimates are for increases in These estimates are for increases in the regular force and have no reference to emergency work sure to be entailed by an outbreak in Mexico. In case of actual hostilities temporary employes undoubtedly would be taken on, as was done during the Spanish-American war. Secretary Baker and Chief Clerk Scofield are considering plans for meeting the expected heavy increase in departmental work.

The police investigated the accident and reported that the throwing of the switch after the forward truck of the southbound car had crossed partly over it caused the accident. The affair was reported to the public utilities commission.

For Our Woman Readers

The Evening Star offers a inique booklet of recipes to the women of Washington.

A nation-wide demand has arisen for expert advice on the serving of canned food. There were over 8,060 requests for such advice at the Panama-Pacific ex-position.

A staff of scientists and spe-cialists has been at work for months in a special laboratory investigating and experimenting. Their work has just been com-pleted. The Evening Star is able to offer you its results.

Canned food is usually ready to eat, but it is not ready for the careful and fastidious housewife to serve at her table.

The booklet here offered deals thoroughly with the modern problem in cookery—how to pre-pare canned food.

Some households use much canned goods, others but little. Every household uses some. No household can afford to be without this new book if its kitchen boasts a can opener.

GERMAN ULTIMATUM SENT TO SWITZERLAND

Demand for Commodity Exchange Must Be Met by 6 O'Clock Tomorrow Night.

PARIS. June 28 .- A Zurich dispatch to the Matin says that Germany's demands on Switzerland for the exchange of commodities are in the form of an ultimatum which expires at 6 o'clock tomorrow night. Announcement was made in the Swiss parliament last week that Germany had emanded that the Swiss government per demanded that the Swiss government per-mit the exportation of cotton and food-stuffs collected by German agents, stat-ing that if the demand were not complied with Germany would prohibit exportation of coal, iron and other materials essen-tial for Swiss industries. Movie Picture Concerns Propose Exhibit of Life in Army and

The big motion picture "weeklies" have united in an effort to boost recruiting in the United States Navy and Army. It is proposed to show pictures of life in the army and navy in motion picture houses throughout the country and display with them appeals for enlistments signed by Secretary Baker of the War Department and Secretary Daniels of the navy.

Representatives of the "weeklies" called on the secretaries yesterday and westbound traffic, including iron and outlined their proposal. Secretary steel articles from Pittsburgh and baniels consented to allow motion pictures to be taken of life aboard the United States ships at Vera Cruz. Secretary Baker referred to Gen. Funston a proposal to send movie operators to Gen. Pershing's camp to help army recruiting. Films taken of either branch will be censored by army or navy authorities and then released to theaters. It is proposed to have copies of the films taken furnished to each of the big "weekly" establishments for distributions throughout the country to the exhibitors taking their service. It is estimated that about 40,000,000 persons witness the films of the combine each week.

ASKS PRESIDENT FOR TREATY TEXT

Senator Stone's Resolution Relating to Reported Action of European Allies.

STATED BOYCOTT IS AIMED AT "ENEMY COMMERCE"

Missouri Statesman Wants to Know How the Pact Will Affect Neutral Nations.

Senator Stone, chairman of the for ign relations committee, introduced a esolution today requesting President Wilson to inform the Senate of the precise character of a commercial treaty being negotiated by allies of France in the European war, with "the eclared object and purpose of estabishing a boycott" against their enmies during and after the war. The resolution asks particularly that the President ascertain whether, and to what extent, neutral nations, especially the United States, may be affected by the treaty.

Further Allegations Cited.

It further cites reports that a comnercial treaty was entered into at the conference between France, Great become operative after the war for the purpose of establishing a boycott sagainst enemy nations and "also to promote commercial independence from the central powers." The resolution further quotes from a recent statement issued by the British board of trade, relating to the treaty, which said that the allies had declared a common determination to insure re-establishment of countries suffering from the war and to devise means to give them "a prior claim on raw materials, industrial and agricultural plants and stock and mercantile fleets, or by assisting them in re-equipping themselves in these respects.

A strong plea for favorable action o the Newlands bill which looks to the co-ordination of the work of the various departments of the governmen dealing with the water resources of the country was made to a subcommittee of the Senate commerce committee yesterday afternoon by the heads of the various government bureaus interested in this question. All of the witnesses were emphatic in their statements that such coordination is essential to a proper control of the waters of the country and to prevention of disastrous floods, such as have cost the people millions and millions of dollars in the past.

Before Subcommittee. Arthur P. Davis, director of the recla-

Graves, chief of the forest service; Charles F. Marvin, chief of the weather bureau; William A. Taylor, chief of the bureau of plant industry in the Department of Agriculture; George R. Putnam, lighthouse commissioner; William Bowle, division chief of the coast liam Bowle, division chief of the coast and geodetic survey, and others appeared before the subcommittee.

The government officials laid particular stress upon the third section of the Newlands bill, which calls for a water control board to be composed of a chairman and four assistant secretaries from the four government departments especially interested in this work of river regulation. This board would be in a position, the witness told the committee, to frame plans for the treatment of, for instance, the Ohioriver valley, so as to prevent a recurrence of the disastrous floods which have wrecked millions of dollars' worth of property and cost many lives. Only by co-operation and co-ordination of affort of all the services dealing with the water recourses of the country, they said, could such a result be accomplished.
